

Oracle Enterprise Performance Management Presentation and Lunch

STRESS TESTING AND SCENARIO MODELING FOR FINANCIAL SERVICES

Thursday | 18 March 2010 at Threadneedles Hotel

Given the economic challenges of the past two years, financial institutions must regroup and plan more efficiently and be able to:

- Assess a range of potential business scenarios given volatile industry and macroeconomic drivers
- Provide a more accurate cash flow forecast
- Evaluate capital plans and availability
- Model alternative product portfolios and the impacts of customer product shifts
- Project key ratios and capital adequacy to ensure that compliance remains intact on an ongoing basis
- Stress test and Reverse stress test different business scenarios to assess long-term financial viability in all circumstances

Only one tool addresses these challenges - Hyperion Strategic Finance.

Join Blue Stone and Oracle on March 18th to discuss how companies like yours are benefiting from using Oracle's Hyperion Strategic Finance to solve these challenges in a short period of time. This lunch provides you with a chance to network with fellow executives and discuss your concerns in an informal environment.
