FORECASTING CASH FLOW AND LIQUIDITY IN UNCERTAIN FINANCIAL TIMES

Tuesday | 20 April 2010 at the One Aldwych Hotel

Given the challenging financial conditions associated with the economic downturn and the subsequent freeze in the capital markets, companies are faced with the challenge of being able to:

- Assess a range of potential business results given volatile industry and macroeconomic drivers
- Provide a more accurate cash flow forecast
- Evaluate liquidity and excess availability
- Model alternative financing structures with adjusted debt and equity profiles
- Project bond ratings and convenient compliance to ensure that compliance remains intact on an ongoing basis.

Only one tool addresses these challenges - Hyperion Strategic Finance.

Join Blue Stone and Oracle on April 20th to discuss how companies like yours are benefiting from using Oracle's Hyperion Strategic Finance to solve these challenges in a short period of time. This lunch provides you with a chance to network with fellow executives and discuss your concerns in an informal environment.
